

COLLOIDAL SILVER

We have a high grade Colloidal Silver available at this point in time.

I have tested a number of different brands and this one meets the highest standard of pure silver with no additives.

This is a good way to try Colloidal Silver and watch it work for yourself.

Science is based on observed facts.

Colloidal Silver is an anti-bacterial, anti-fungal, anti-mold and anti-viral agent that can be used on the skin, taken internally, and used as an household disinfectant. In a pure form, it is non toxic to humans and is safe for the environment. The most important aspect of Colloidal Silver is bacteria cannot build up a resistant to it causing a super bug often seen in the overuse of antibiotics.

We have Colloidal Silver Generators available for those who want to be able to produce their own Colloidal Silver.

To have the knowledge and .999 Silver rods to make safe Colloidal Silver is a wise investment.

Colloidal Silver is the oldest man made antibiotic. It can be used for the elimination of both bacteria and viruses. It is used internally or externally on the skin. Hospitals are now using it on postsurgical dressings to prevent infections.

If you are interested, ask the receptionist for the price and how many generators you want.
